About the Cargill Consulting Group:

Since 1978, Cargill Consulting Group (CCG) has worked with over 5,000 business-to-business sales forces. We recognize that sales — in particular, sales management — is one of the least formally controlled components of most business organizations.

Over 25 years ago, Gil Cargill, CEO of CCG, discovered that the sales process used by most companies was first documented in 1873 by John Henry Patterson, the founder of NCR. The last thing you want to do is use techniques and processes from the late 1800s!

Cargill Consultant Group will help your company's sales and marketing processes leapfrog over your competition, so you can bring on better salespeople, sell more and skyrocket company growth TODAY!
